

Interview Question: Why do you want to work here?

Why do you want to work here?

Boy: I love you and want you to be my girlfriend

Girl: Why do you say you love me, you barely know me?

Boy: I have been watching you, and I have talked to some friends about you. I know you are kind to old ladies, I know that of all the girls in the village you are the only one that visits that widow who has lost her husband to the illegal mines. I know that your smile lights up the room when you enter, [read more] that you are the most beautiful girl in the village. Having you in my life will make it better, because I have heard you are wise and that the young girls always come to you for advice. While you might not know me, ever since I was captured by your physical beauty, I have wanted to know more about you. And I know you are as beautiful inside as outside.

Now what girl does not want to hear that, and how can she resist the fact that this person has gone out of their way to get to know them. As we have said before, Companies also have egos, and they want to know that you will be a loyal employee, that you will stay through the long haul because you believe in what they represent.
